CEETyp

They are a very safe and reliable power connection with very simple handling and operation.

The Housings are all made of high quality P6 Polyamide which has the best resistance to chemicals and the highest resistance to tracking. The Housings are colour coded according to Operating Voltage.

All CEETyp contacts are machined from solid high quality copper alloy. Each contact has 2 screws for a secure connection. For increased safety the earth contact sleeve is longer than the others so therefore contact between earth contact pin and earth contact sleeve is established first and breaks last.

FAST. SAFE. SECURE. WATERTIGHT.

Walther CEETyp offers the quickest assembly and the most secure operational reliability. Walther has incorporated a patented cage type gasket inside the body of the plug. This seals in both directions both towards the cable entry and towards the front. Connection security is increased with screw terminals having 2 screws per contact. The cable gland has great strain relief and water tightness. The screwless version has unlimited strain relief. Water tightness is increased with a double sealing groove. Opened hinged lid snaps automatically into closed position when let loose. The CEETyp system is padlockable as a protection against unauthorized disconnection. Walther is made in Germany.
